

Biobehavioral Measurements of Alcohol Use in a Sexual Minority
Drinking Environment:
Implications for Prevention of Alcohol-Related Problems

Julie M. Croff, Ph.D.

Health Education & Promotion, OSU

Friday, Oct. 24th, 12:15-1:15

North Hall 222, OSU-Tulsa

Light lunch provided. Simulcast to Stillwater ITLE 105

At the conclusion of this seminar participants will be able to:

- Describe the sexual minority drinking environment as a risk environment
- Understand alcohol use as a coping behavior of sexual minorities in OK
- Identify unique prevention approaches for sexual minorities

Seminar Series sponsored by the OSU College of Human Science's
Center for Family Resilience, OSU-Tulsa

Questions? Contact Dr. Harrist, amanda.harrist@okstate.edu.